Preliminary Results of the NCATE Accreditation Site Visit. On Wednesday, September 16, 2009, at the exit interview of the initial accreditation site visit by the team from the National Accreditation of Colleges of Teacher Education, the team chair announced that the College of Education had met all 6 national standards. This is a preliminary report from the team chair, and the final report is expected in April of 2010 from the Unit Accreditation Board.

This preliminary and highly favorable report represents a resounding endorsement of the quality of the College of Education's programs, faculty, candidates and the systems we have in place for continuous improvement.
